

NAPCO® Products are Earth friendly

NAPCO® vinyl and metal exterior products can help you meet your sustainable building goals and earn points in leading green building certification programs. NAPCO® strives to contribute to sustainable building practices, improved energy efficiency, or lifecycle benefits of homes as our contribution to the Ply Gem Enviro initiative.

SUSTAINABLE RESOURCES:

- NAPCO® vinyl siding is manufactured from abundant natural resources.
- Vinyl siding generates less construction site waste than cardboard packaging, brick, or lumber.
- Ply Gem facilities reuse and recycle production scraps, pallets, and packaging material, reducing raw material needs and landfill use.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY:

- Vinyl siding requires less energy to manufacture per square foot than brick and mortar.¹
- Due to lighter weight, vinyl siding requires less fuel to transport than other cladding options.
- NAPCO® American Essence™ Premium Insulated Vinyl Siding adds an additional layer of insulation to exterior walls, increasing the energy efficiency of the wall system.

LIFECYCLE BENEFITS OF HOMES:

- NAPCO® vinyl siding is durable and requires no site finish.
- When installed properly and under normal use, our products should never require painting or staining. They won't crack, peel, blister, or rot.

So wood-like, you'll check for splinters.

When you love the look of wood but hate the maintenance it requires, American Herald® vinyl siding by NAPCO® has you covered, in style. Each panel is intricately detailed with embossed wood grain patterns, designed to capture the light and texture of real wood. The structure of each panel completes the look—a 9/16" projection casts a slight shadow similar to that of actual wood siding.

Relax: American Herald vinyl siding is virtually maintenance free and weather resistant.
